The diagram illustrates a table of periodical information. The table has four rows. The first three rows are header-like entries, while the fourth row contains three columns: Subscription Identifier, Number of Issues, and Subscription Price. Arrows labeled with numbers point to various parts of the table:

- 602 points to the first column of the first row.
- 604 points to the second column of the first row.
- 606 points to the first column of the second row.
- 608 points to the first column of the third row.
- 610 points to the second column of the third row.
- 612 points to the first column of the fourth row.
- 620 is located in the second column of the fourth row.
- 622 is located in the second column of the fourth row.
- 624 is located in the third column of the fourth row.

The diagram illustrates a table of authentication codes and their availability. The table has two columns: 'AUTHENTICATION CODE' and 'AVAILABILITY'. The 'AUTHENTICATION CODE' column contains six entries, each associated with a specific row number (702, 704, 706, 708, 710) via curved arrows. The 'AVAILABILITY' column indicates whether each code is 'UNAVAILABLE' or 'AVAILABLE'. A curved arrow labeled '700' points to the top right corner of the table.
